My name is Sebastián Gianelli, I work as an freelance Inspector and auditor for clients outside argentina. TPI Argentina is my own venture. I have been working in the exciting world of quality control, audits and pre-shipment inspections for over 11 years. My career began at a leading metallurgical company in Argentina, where I discovered my true calling: helping companies ensure that their processes and products meet the highest standards.

I know what it means to depend on a supplier thousands of miles away, with all the unknowns and risks that entails. What if the product doesn't arrive as expected? What if you discover defects too late, when the damage is already done? These fears are real and costly, and I understand them because I have been there, solving them time and time again.

Over the years, I have honed my ability to identify problems before they become crises. My work is not just technical; it is methodical, detailed and, above all, honest. My principles are clear: impartiality, rigor, and direct and transparent communication with my clients. That's what you need when your business is at stake.

What sets me apart from the big inspection companies is the flexibility and proximity I offer. There are no middlemen or bureaucratic processes: I work with you directly to tailor my services to your specific needs. I am your ally on site, the one who makes sure that what you are paying for meets your expectations, without unpleasant surprises.

My services are designed to save you time, money and headaches. My mission is to give you the peace of mind of knowing that, when you open a container, you will find exactly what you expected: products that meet your quality requirements, in quantity and in optimal condition.

I understand that navigating this path alone can be complicated. The risks are high and mistakes can be costly. But you don't have to face them without help. I am here to be your trusted expert, your support every step of the way.

If you are looking to guarantee quality, avoid problems and optimize your operations, contact me. Together we can transform your challenges into solid and reliable results.
